Additional information

Description:

The Siamese fighting fish is one of the most famous aquarium fish. However, most ordinary people know it under another name - fighting fish. The name speaks for itself: these small fish are distinguished by such strong intraspecific aggression that for a long time they were bred specifically for sport fights, which gathered entire halls of spectators and fans. However, aquarists were attracted not by the obstinacy of the fighting fish, but by its extraordinary beauty. The calling card of this fish is a lush veil-like tail, swaying in the water with every movement. In combination with bright and varied coloring, it gives the fighting fish a truly unique look - it is almost impossible to confuse them with other fish.
